

MARKET IS A MODEL

Purchasers Throng Arcade at Opening Yesterday.

STALLS DO A BIG BUSINESS

Facilities of Handsome New Headquarters for Table Supplies at Park Road and Fourteenth Street Elicit Much Favorable Comment. Cold Storage in Connection.

The opening of the new Arcade Market, Park road and Fourteenth street northwest, yesterday morning marked an epoch in the local mercantile world. From 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning until midnight the place was crowded with eager purchasers. The stall holders report a phenomenal business.

The market is one of the most beautiful in the country. All counters and stands are finished in white tile and are absolutely germ proof. The rules of the market do not allow the use of wood for stands of any kind. The floor is built of concrete, and is scrubbed each morning just before business starts.

No efforts have been spared to accommodate purchasers and visitors. Manager Averill has a large and efficient force of porters, whose duty it is to look after the comfort of persons in the building.

When all the floor space is taken there will be about 150 stalls. Approximately 100 already are occupied.

Merchants from Brooklyn, New York, and Philadelphia have taken stalls. In addition to these, merchants who have had stalls in other local markets have moved permanently into the Arcade.

In connection with the market, the largest fur storeroom in the city has been

MITES FOR RANDOLPH

Military Ceremonies to Mark Funeral To-morrow.

CAISSON TO CONVEY BODY

At Arlington Cemetery Gates Squadron of Cavalry and Battery of Artillery Will Meet and Escort Remains to Grave-Widow and Daughters Receive Condolences.

Military ceremonies of an unusual character will mark the funeral to-morrow of Maj. Gen. Wallace Fitz Randolph, retired, who committed suicide Friday by shooting himself in the head at his home, 1217 New Hampshire avenue northwest. Rev. Randolph McKim and Rev. John A. Aspinwall will officiate at the home, and the services at the grave will be conducted by Capt. W. W. Brander, chaplain at Fort Myer.

The body will be placed on a caisson and conveyed to Arlington. At the cemetery gates the body will be met by a squadron of cavalry and a battery of field artillery from Fort Myer and escorted to the grave.

Honorary Pallbearers Selected.

The honorary pallbearers will be Brig. Gen. M. M. Macomb, Col. Hamilton Rowan, U. S. A., retired; Col. Charles G. Tread, Fourth Field Artillery; Maj. Parker West, U. S. A., retired; Capt. Edwin Landon, Coast Artillery Corps; Maj. George F. Landers, Coast Artillery Corps; Maj. William Chamberlaine, Coast Artillery Corps; Maj. Henry T. Allen, Eighth Cavalry; Capt. Johnson Hagood, Coast Artillery Corps; and Capt. D. T. Moore, Sixth Field Artillery.

Mrs. Randolph and her daughters, Misses Annie and Mary Randolph, received many messages of condolence yesterday, and many of their more intimate friends called and tendered their sympathy.

Inquest at the Home.

At the inquest held at the home Friday afternoon several of the general's close friends and the members of his family were told of the change that had come over him while at Newport last summer, and that an alienist had been summoned from New York to treat him.

The testimony satisfied the coroner's jury that he was mentally unbalanced when he ended his life, and a verdict to that effect accordingly was given.

TRADE CONGRESS IN MARCH.

Awakening of South to Its Commercial Importance Object.

The Southern Commercial Congress will hold its great commercial rally in Atlanta in March, 1911, as a part of the work of awakening the South to a sense of its trade importance.

As a preliminary to this the executive committee of the congress will meet in Washington on Wednesday next to arrange the programme for that occasion. The executive committee and representatives of Gov. Brown, of Georgia, and of the Chamber of Commerce of Atlanta will be received by President Taft on that day.

SHEEHAN—Suddenly, on Thursday, December 8, 1910, at Providence Hospital, ELLA SHEEHAN.

Funeral from Providence Hospital on Monday, December 12, at 9 a. m.

TAYLOR—On Friday, December 9, 1910, at his residence, the Burlington, Vermont avenue, HAWKINS, Jr., beloved husband of Cora B. Taylor, a staunch adherent to the course he thought was right. And in that ultimate haven of the tortured spirit of mortals may his astral being find succor from the pangs of despised love and the meed of a just providence should bestow upon the patient merit of one who has taken much from the unworthy. Let this be the benediction of those who loved him for his worth alone. JAMES A. K. MOORE, IDA B. MOORE.

IN MEMORIAM.

MOORE—In sad and loving tribute to DOUGLASS MOORE, son of James A. K. and Ida B. Moore, who one year ago this day, in the twenty-fourth year of his life, departed to that bourne whence no traveler returns, this memorial is inscribed. He was a dutiful son, a loyal friend, a staunch adherent to the course he thought was right. And in that ultimate haven of the tortured spirit of mortals may his astral being find succor from the pangs of despised love and the meed of a just providence should bestow upon the patient merit of one who has taken much from the unworthy. Let this be the benediction of those who loved him for his worth alone. JAMES A. K. MOORE, IDA B. MOORE.
